3 Little Pigs Essay

Have you ever read the 3 little pigs? If so, have you ever seen how admirable the third pig is? If you have never read the three little pigs here's some information. The three little pigs are looking for things to make their house. The materials that were used were straw, sticks and bricks. Then comes along a big bad wolf who destroys homes, but the question is, who's going to survive? The 3rd pig was an admirable character because he was smart, and most of all he was brave and protective.

The third little pig was admirable because he cared and protected his brothers. For example, when it said he went to look for his brothers because their houses got destroyed because of the wolf, so he let them stay with him. Knowing that the material they used couldn't hold it down, he used even better material with bricks. Continuing, while the wolf was threatening the pig he was patient enough that he put hot boiling water under the chimney so when he fell he would fall in the boiling water. He stayed calm while the wolf kept failing to pressure him. As it stated "Little pig, little pig, I'm coming down your chimney to get you now." While the wolf was taunting the pig knew what to do, but not only did he protect his brothers from an outsmarted predator.

There is another reason why the third little pig is such an admirable person, it's because he was smart enough to trick the wolf. The third little pig made his house out of bricks. There is no reason why he did it but he was smart enough to have known there would be intruders. Or he must have known he would need stable material for his house. On page six the story says "Please yourself," called the third little pig who was now busy with some important preparations" This line picked of the story is evidence to how the third pig was going to trick the wolf. This line also explains that the third little pig is a devious person. But in a good way. The third little pig did not make it obvious to what he was doing. Using his tactics to trick him in secret. The third little pig is able to finesse the wolf without him catching on the whole time even why it was starting to get obvious, and that's what makes him admirable. This leads on to the last reason why the third little pig is so admirable.

Lastly, I think the third little piggy is so admirable because he was brave. I say this because in the story "The three little pigs" despite the warnings he was told by the wolf he was brave enough to trick the wolf into the pot, which in my opinion teaches a lesson to stand up to bullies. I say this because on page 7 the text it states "The big bad wolf fell right into a bubbling pot of boiling water" So this shows that he had the courage to do that. Another example in the text that shows that he was brave is in the part where it says "little pig, little pig have my front paws down the chimney threatened the wolf," "Please yourself called the little pig who was still busy" So this is to show how brave the little pig is even when the wolf is getting closer and closer to him, and again in my opinion i think it was really helped because after that the wolf never bothered them again. So I think that the third pig is an admirable character because of how brave he was which made a huge impact in the story.

This was 3 claims and supporting evidence on how and why the third little pig form the story, "The Three Little Pigs",had become an admirable character. Those 3 claims were caring

,because he looked after his brothers and mother after finding out his house was safe against danger like the wolf. Smart ,because he was smart enough to finesse the wolf because he had chosen to make his house out of brick. And lastly, brave because he was calm and stood up to the wolf and seemed to not be frightened in its presence.
